Bits O' Talk

by Fay Bovee

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rose spent a week in Canada visiting his mother, Mrs. Garfield Rose and his brother Lawrence Rose, both of Warton, Ont.

Thanks to Charles and Elna Mae Moshier and Laura Olson for verification of the sidewalk picture in last week's paper. The house is that of Mrs. Olson. The house burned about 1919 and was remodeled in brick making it a little difficult to identify now. The house immediately behind is the one across Maple St. known as the George Sorenson house and looking on down the street one can see the maple trees that used to surround the school.

The Fick family said farewell to Gonzalo Arancibia, the exchange student who made his home with them for a year, when they drove him to the airport at Traverse City on Sunday, July 11. He was to fly from there to Detroit, then New York and on to his home in Santiago, Chile. The Fick's son, Renti, is already at Gonzalo's home and has been having a wonderful time skiing in the Andes Mountains about two hours drive from their home.

Pat Paulsen Avoids Nomination

On July 25, Pat Paulsen will return to Traverse City after successfully avoiding nomination at the convention in New York. Paulsen, who began his campaign to not be president almost four years ago, will be returning in order to begin rehearsals for the Cherry County Playhouse production of "Norman Is That You". He will be starring in the playhouse production of the Ron Clark, Sam Bobrick comedy from July 27 through August 1.

"Norman Is That You" is a mature comedy in which Paulsen plays a drycleaning man from Dayton, Ohio who is jolted by an encounter with Manhattan's mod mores when he pays a surprise visit to his son. His attempt to straighten things out results in confusion and farce.

Now that the convention is over, Paulsen plans to put all of his energy into regaining the CCP box office record. Paulsen held the record until last year when he became producer of the Traverse City stock theatre. Though he still does not concede the loss of the record because his 823rd record is not complete, he has pledged that "Norman Is That You" will settle the issue. "I'll show 'em, I'll show 'em all" he said. "I'm still number one and my convention failure proves it."

"Norman Is That You" plays from July 27 through July 30 at 8:30 p.m. On July 31 performances are at 6:00 p.m. and 9:45 p.m., and on August 1 the performance is at 7:30 p.m. There is a 2:00 p.m. matinee at the playhouse on July 29th.

released from his cage at the local zoo only to accompany the three children to Chestnut School where he gets into more trouble than can be imagined and ends up with an acute case of frustration complicated by progressive malnutrition. The entire performance is filled with excitement and laughter; parents are encouraged to attend with their children and participate in the areas of the performance that call for audience participation. "The Lion Who Lost His Floor" will be presented on Tuesday, July 27 and Thursday, July 29.

Wednesday, July 28 the second cast from this year's Kid's Theatre Program will present their first performance of the Broadway Musical "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown". That performance will be followed by a second performance on Friday evening July 30. Both performances will be in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium and box curtain time for both is 8:00 p.m. This delightful musical performance depicts just what might happen during one day in the life of that famous Peanuts character, Charlie Brown. The show is delightful to say the least, with musical numbers that will set your toe tapping and production numbers that will thrill every member of the audience.

There is one very special ingredient that is going into these two Kid's Theatre Performances that make them very unique ... to say the least ... that one ingredient is the performers. They range in age from seven to thirteen. They have learned their lines, built and painted their scenery and put these two shows together in the fantastically short time of only five weeks. And even more exciting, these "kid's" are members of our own community.

Tickets for these two productions are now on sale. Price of the tickets is $1.00 and one ticket will admit the holder to one performance of each show. Plan now to treat yourself and especially the kids, to two excellent evenings of top entertainment during the last week of July.

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, JULY 22, 1976

From Our Corner...

Following our vacation last Friday afternoon and the weekend attending the Michigan Press Association summer meeting at Shanty Creek, near Bellaire, we met Monday morning with a new vim and vigor out-look on life that we have not experienced in quite awhile ... but, it only takes us 3 minutes to get to the office — and after arriving, the vim went out of the vigor.

The tranquility of looking out over the valley of the chain of lakes from our patio the last three days came to an abrupt halt.

So join us, as we take you to the wonderful world of your country editor.

First off ... we again received over the weekend, a type-written letter from a student at G.H.S., that when its contents are printed will prove to one and all that it must be the devil in me that prevents our walking on water. Our request is that the student will come in and sign their name ... we will be most happy to print the letter.

Following the study of the letter above — we approached the notes of phone calls we did not receive Friday because we were out playing.

All five pertained to the school issue, four were resolved, we are still awaiting our return call from Southfield.

In one of our conversations Monday afternoon we were alarmed at the fact that people are being harassed through obscene phone calls from (uneducated children?).

Our country — and that includes Grayling and Crawford County — has survived 200 years due to the freedoms of all. Just because someone does not believe the way you do ... a person has no right to attack their reasons of indifference in this manner.

We did receive a jovial suggestion from our stalwart golf partner, Dr. Ralph, we call him "Hukielour" but don't know how to spell it, it has something to do with Hawaii. Anyway, following last week's corner, which proves he reads it now and then, he remarked, "why in hell don't you take a stand on both the Bear issue and School millage — that way only half of the people will condemn you."

Remarks like that you can expect from all doctors ... our answer is not printable.

Our "Bits O' Talk" gal Fay, told us Monday we should go back to the river (someplace) because it made us long winded — meaning I have to work harder to bring the corner to our faithful readers, Toni, Dane, Grandma Leona, the boss, and T.J. All evening we have been wondering how we could just happen to mention the bigger boss. Sorry Chickie, you are right, we do have the outlet.

Back to Shanty Creek ... yes, Thelma got in her golf games, and even won a prize. As for us, we forgot to take our clubs and had to settle on sitting out on our patio and watching all the flowers come and go from the pool.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Washington Sex Scandal

The present sex scandals in Washington are in reality just extensions of the same activity taking place in every community across America. Few of us are naive enough to believe some of our congressmen are "white knights" who have suddenly fallen prey to such vice. A generation ago the women who sold their bodies and souls to men of power and wealth were ashamed to publicly expose their sins for fear of public rejection and dishonor. Today they become rich and famous because many in our nation now worship illicit sex and despise purity and chastity.

The "International Hookers Convention" was recently held in Washington. A representative for COYOTE (Call Off Your Old Tired Ethics) said the prostitutes chose Washington because "it's time for a revolutionary attitude toward hookers." In essence they are saying: "Since everybody is doing it, help us make it honorable."

Public officials who practice adultery prove their unworthiness to serve their countrymen. They prove their moral character is corrupt. A man who can not be trusted by his wife and family does not have the moral character to be trusted with the lives, safety and general welfare of millions of other Americans. A man who will cheat on his wife and children will cheat his fellow citizens if the price is right.

The Bible says that a common thief who steals when he is hungry should be less despised by society than a common adulterer, Proverbs 6:27-35. But these men are worse than common adulterers. They are men of reputation, wealth and power who could easily commit adultery with many women without prostitution. Instead, they add insult to injury by using your tax dollars to support immorality. On top of that, they deliberately chose to make sexual covants out of their employees. This whole matter pictures a type of selfish arrogance which can not be long tolerated in a democratic society. Instead of condemnation, one of these men received applause during his defense before his colleagues in Congress.

God has repeatedly condemned adultery throughout the history of man. From the ten commandments of Exodus 20 to the closing warning of Revelation 21:8, God has repeatedly stated that all sex outside of a marriage relationship is sin for which the punishment is death and Hell.

The fact that we now live in the post-Christian era where "situational ethics" and the "new morality" have permeated the thinking of our society, in no way alters the terrible nature of sin, or the divine judgment awaiting those who practice it.

The rapid moral decay of our nation is a fact few people will deny. I firmly believe our generation is the last group of Americans who can reverse the current decay by calling our nation back to biblical repentance and revival. It is time to call for an end to the "Hollywood Image" of sex sin as good. It is time to demand morality of our citizens in place of immorality. It is time to dust off the laws against sexual immorality already on our books, and start punishing those who practice such sins. The very fact that the above appeals sound radical in our society, supports our premise concerning the extent of moral corruption. (adv.) Pastor Barnett

Finest Money Can Buy

"What do you think of our new mayor?" "He's the finest money can buy!"

"If you've got a boat, make sure your insurance covers it out of the water, too."

"Anyone can sell you a policy that covers your boat in the water."

"But how about all that time it's in storage? And while you're towing it to and from the lake? Statistics prove that a lot of damages occur while a boat is out of water."

"With an Auto-Owners Marine policy, you'll protect your boat in the water and out—and chances are, end up saving money at the same time."

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 12th day of July, 1976
LORA MARIE CASON, Notary Public

My Commission Expires January 12, 1980.

In a long dream just before I woke up the other morning I saw myself the victim of a very narrow life. A life spent driving the expressway to work, fighting through lines, and then dreaming on the job of going north for the weekend. At five o'clock on Friday afternoon, I heard a whistle go off, and felt my limp hands fall around the steering wheel of the camper, head home, pick up the wife, the kids, the dog, and anything else I could cram in and head north. The whole weekend was a compacted kind of dizziness and then it was over. I saw myself heading back to my job, the lines, the crowds, the "shelter" of the city.

Living here is like living on top of a place that everyone wants to get to. There seems, at times, to be thousands of people all clamoring to get inside northern Michigan to see and feel what it's like to really be alive. Fifteen years ago, as a boy growing up in mid-Michigan, Grayling to me, was one of the wildest places I could imagine. On two or three occasions I ventured into Hartwick Pines and the woods around Kalkaska with my father. I still have the pictures of me standing next to some of the largest pine trees in Michigan, and since then this place has always held some mystique for me.

That mystique works itself into a lifestyle. I think if we watch the forces working around us, the natural forces, we might learn some valuable lessons about how to get a bit closer to our own ideas of reality. Like the land, we have to be open to all kinds of changes and variations.

In a very fine book, "On the Loose," by Jerry and Penny Russell, published and distributed by the Sierra Club, we are asked an important question: "What can make the heart ache more than a billboard?" On the surface it may sound ridiculous, but think about it the next time you drive anywhere expecting to see some beautiful land and instead your senses are assaulted by a thousand blinking signs.

The only thing worse to me than billboards are roads. I was walking near Hartwick Pines last fall on a beautiful day when I almost killed myself by walking into a whole row of bright orange surveying stakes. Actually, there were two rows of them, road-width stretching off over a hill and I was tempted to plant them elsewhere when I remembered the words of Aldo Leopold: "Of what avail are forty freedoms without a blank spot on the map?"

Has Carter Freed the South?

Being a conscientious, effective citizen is no easy job, especially in an election year, such as 1976.

It's tough enough electing a President, which we'll have to do again this year; the responsibility imposed by citizenship in selecting the nation's top official is tremendous.

One thing's in our favor: We don't have to choose a Vice President. Under the way we do things, he comes along with the President of your choice. They're a matched set.

Of course, maybe the choice for President this year will present no significant challenge for most citizens. The early polls seem to indicate thus.

If you think your responsibility is complete when you decide between Carter and whoever, you're underestimating the system.

In Michigan, for example, the job as responsible citizen has only just begun.

I seem to be on an increasing number of political mailing lists, for some reason. One of the most recent was an appeal for funds from my home county political party (in the spirit of suspense, I'll leave the party designation unrevealed).

This letter reminded me of the immense responsibility of citizenship. ("Please send check.")

In addition to President, we'll have to vote for the following offices this fall:

United States senator, United States congressman, state rep., county clerk, county prosecutor, drain commissioner, county treasurer, sheriff, local judges of various description (circuit, probate, district), county commissioners, and township officials.

But that's not all. To continue: two members of the state board of education, two trustees for Michigan State University, two regents for University of Michigan, two governors for Wayne State University.

Perhaps most important, and frequently under-recognized, three justices of the Michigan Supreme Court also will be elected in November.

In Michigan, remember, this is a light year, election-wise. We have no governor's race, and no state senators, to be elected this year. The load is light.

Conscientious and enlightened citizenship requires that we know something about the candidates who finally win our support.

Not only should we know whether Jimmy Carter favors peanut price supports, and how President Ford feels about the Panama Canal, but we should also be conversant with the views of all the other federal, state and local candidates in areas of their particular concern, including judges.

How do the congressional and senatorial candidates stand on national health plans? ... or the legislative candidate on the single business tax ... or the sheriff candidate and the local judicial candidates on plea bargaining ... or the county commissioner candidates on the tax equalization system ... or township candidates on local zoning or assessment practices ... or the state educational candidates on out-of-state tuition levels ... and etc., etc., as the King of Siam used to say.

But hold yet, fellow voters. We also will have some propositions to decide at the polling place. Among those possible statewide referenda floating around are these:

Limit state spending to 8.3 percent of all personal income in Michigan; require a tax increase or a new tax to be submitted to a popular vote; reduce the state income tax to a minimum of 3.9 percent for those earning less than $20,000 a year, and increase it to 9.6 percent for those over $20,000; permit collective bargaining by all state civil service employees; the same for state police; allow the state to acquire and operate gas and electric utilities; outlaw non-returnable bottles and cans.

To do the job right, it's going to take considerable intelligence work by voters before election day. Although the burden might encourage some of us to just go fishing on election day, most of us probably will do our duty as citizens.

Citizenship is no simple task. It was not conceived to be simple to operate our form of government, and it certainly hasn't worked out that way.

Not Very Refreshing

The pure clarinet of Benny Goodman brought back bittersweet memories to thousands of aging swingers at the Meadow Brook Music Festival Friday night.

I was reminded of Depression days when Mother lined my pockets with oilcloth so it would be easier for me to steal soup.

Amazingly, Goodman sounds as fine in 1976 as in 1936. His "Sing, Sing, Sing" and "Lady Be Good" almost made me weep for the sheer joy of the music and the nostalgia. But I would have been happier if I'd had oilcloth pockets. My wife forbid me to tell you why. But this is not yet a matriarchal society. I am going to tell you why, from the beginning...

As you know, if you have any culture at all, the Meadow Brook Music Festival is held outdoors every summer at Oakland University in Rochester. Most of the listeners pay $3 to sit on a grassy hillside. The swells pay $6 to sit in the pavilion with the orchestra.

For either price, the acoustics are great. But sometimes the weather isn't. The grass-sitters must gamble, especially when they buy tickets ahead of time.

For instance, the night before Goodman performed, some grass sitters took shelter from wind and rain in pup tents to hear the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, led by Aldo Ceccato, safe in the pavilion. It was as though the Italians had won World War II.

The Hillside is marvelous for topflight hedonists. There's lots of room to spread a satin blanket under the Chateaubriand and champagne. It is not unusual to see the picnickers sipping from crystal and pondering which fork is obligatory during an obbligator.

There are also the grassers with six-packs and old Army blankets, which is more my speed. But either way, slob or couch, that's the way to attend a concert. If the music is lousy, you can still save the evening with a good wallow in the potato salad.

I've enjoyed Meadow Brook's hillside many times. But there were also those occasions when I froze, or floated down the hill. So this year I bought pavilion tickets to the Friday jazz series. It cost around $80 but what is money when Oscar Peterson and the Preservation Hall Jazz Band are coming to town.

Besides, you don't have to spread a blanket to enjoy popcorn and lemonade with jazz. I figured there was no good reason why pavilion sitters couldn't have circumspect picnics in their laps. We'd have to leave the six-foot pepper-mill home, and there could be no more tap dancing on our knees. But there would be no need for dehydration.

So, in preparation for opening night with Benny Goodman, I circumspectly mixed the juice of lemons and grains into a circumspect red gallon thermos. Inside the Meadow Brook gate, I bought a circumspect washtub full of popcorn. The music was beginning as we arrived at the pavilion.

"No refreshments are allowed in the pavilion," the usherette said.

In my most circumspect tone, I pointed out that the surrounding hills were alive with the sound of people chomping and gulping. They had paid $3 per ticket less than I did to get inside. What kind of reverse discrimination was this?

She merely pointed to a sign that said "No Refreshments Allowed in Pavilion."

"They don't have that sign on your popcorn stand," I snarled circumspectly.

The usherette explained it was too hard to clean up the mess left behind by pavilion diners. It is simple to rake and vacuum the hillside, but the cleaning equipment won't fit between the rows of seats.

I wasn't impressed. It would be easy to hire Oakland students to do a little stoop labor. But I was challenged. I couldn't abandon that booze and popcorn.

I located some friends on the grass, just a few feet behind our seats. They agreed to guard our treasure, from which I made frequent withdrawals. The juice went into a plastic cup and the popcorn went into napkins.

Fortunately the usherette gave me a good-sized program from behind which I drained the cup. This covert operation made my wife so nervous she threatened to relieve the tension by turning me in to Donald O'Dowd, Oakland president. But she didn't because she knew I'd squeal about the popcorn stuffed inside her blouse.

We have five more jazz concerts to go in the antiseptic pavilion. Oilcloth linings are now being fashioned by my favorite seamstress.

See you at Meadow Brook. Just watch for a man who slobes when he walks. He'll be escorting a woman with a size 50 bust.

Criminals are made, not born.

Dear Whitey:

This letter is being written to show our appreciation to five very outstanding young men, who helped our family through a very sad tragedy.

Last Saturday afternoon my two children and myself along with our German shepherd had stopped along Wilcox Bridge Road to gather dead wood for our campfire.

Our shepherd was across the road from us in the woods. We have had him for 10 years. Just as the red truck went to go by us he came running out across the road and was hit. He was killed almost instantly. There was no time for a vet. Thank God he didn't have to suffer.

The tragedy of losing a great pal we had for 10 years and having to see it happen is something I hope I or my kids never have to see again. It wasn't their fault. These five young guys stayed through it all. How many adults would even have stopped? They would not even let me take him in our car on account of the kids. They brought him back to our home for us and helped bury Big Mike.

The young men were from Walled Lake. The driver came into our house to apologize to the kids and I again, then he took the kids names and address so he can send them a card. The kids assured him it wasn't his fault through their tears.

How many adults would consider the feelings of an 11 and 13 year old child? Thank God this country has some great outstanding young people such as these young guys in it. We will never forget our friend Big Mike, but we will also never forget five fine young men, who helped us get through it all.

Sincerely,

Dear Sir:

With limited time and funds we just recently returned home from a vacation in Michigan and a trip to Niagara Falls. Had such a bad impression of your city that we just had to write. I hope people of our city are not as guilty of such indifference because it sure leaves a sour taste in a person's mouth and will certainly discourage traveling, and I am sure you do like our "tourists vacation money".

We had just stopped at a truck stop for breakfast and noticed a tire wearing badly on one side. These were radials purchased not too long ago. Not wishing to go any further and compound our problem, we asked at the truck stop if they could rotate these tires, but they had no facilities for this, and suggested Grayling, the 1st town. Now mind you, this is a ten minute job, and no "big sweat". We went to every filling station in your town and we were refused. Either they were too busy (at this hour which was about 9:00 a.m., Thursday morning????), or worked by appointment. Hundreds of miles from home and not a friendly face anywhere. The frustration you feel and helplessness is hard to describe, and then we came to the last station, and this fine little guy, even though he had cars on both racks and a transmission all apart, he took the time and heart to jack our car up out in the driveway, fixed us up so we could continue on our way. In your whole town we could only find one humanitarian. Will you please give him recognition in some way, and throw an onion bouquet to the others.

Things like this leave a lasting impression on a traveler. It was a small thing, but important too. You can believe we will never forget Grayling, but we also will never forget this one man. It was Weaver's Shell, 503 Cedar St.

Please do not leave this unnoticed. The man deserves a pat on the back.

I would be very happy if it was published in the editorial section of your local newspaper. It might alert the others that their indifference does not go unrecognized.

Thank you for your attention.

Can A Reporter Be Too Careful?

The tales they tell about Samuel Clemens...

Seems that in order to avoid possible lawsuits, Mark Twain, in his news reporting days, was told by an editor-never to use anything as fact that he could not verify.

Sent out to cover an important social event not long after receiving that admonition, he turned in the following story:

"A woman giving the name of Mrs. James Jones, who is reported to be one of the society leaders of this city, is said to have given what was purported to be a party yesterday to a number of alleged ladies. The hostess claims to be the wife of a reputed attorney."

NOTICE TO VOTERS

Robert Smock, Sr. announces his candidacy on the Democratic ticket, for the office of Register of Deeds.

Mr. Smock attended Grayling High School, served four years in the Navy during World War II and has been a life long resident of Crawford County.

He has worked at Bear Archery for the past twenty-five years in various supervisory positions and also has been a member of the Crawford AuSable School Board for the past twelve years. He is an honest, generous man of principles and personal beliefs, unaltered by influences or pressures of those in more favorable or less favorable positions in life. Bob responds, "We do not have to view a problem in the same way but should allow each to solve a problem in his own way. We may disagree with a person's point of view, but we should still respect him as a person."

Bob is the father of seven children. He and his wife Barbara have seen our community go through many different changes during their lifetimes. These present times being some of the most difficult and controversial for our community to endure.

Bob best sums up his feelings perhaps in this statement. "The decisions which determine our future, both in public office and in the community, are made in small groups. This has always been true to some degree. But never before has the importance of these groups been so widely recognized nor has the possibility of their improvements and increasing significance been so widely accepted."

Attend The Church Of Your ChoicePreferences

People who are sailboat buffs look down their noses at powerboats. Conversely, those who prefer powerboats think there is too little action in the sport of sailing. It's a matter of personal preference.

Fortunately, there is enough water in the world to permit both kinds of boating. Also, there is enough of everything on this earth to enable us to live in dignity while doing personally what we like best — IF we use our resources properly . . . and remember to consider our fellowman.

Personal preferences . . . consideration. These two things apply to boating, to be sure. They also apply to choice of a mate, where to live, kind of occupation, and where and how to worship. You have freedom of choice. Don't forget to use it.

The Story of the Revolutionary War
in the Old Northwest

By Gordon G. Beld

When word of George Rogers Clark's success in the West reached Virginia late in 1778, the legislative assembly of that colony acted quickly to establish the entire region northwest of the Ohio River as the County of Illinois, and Governor Patrick Henry appointed Clark's friend John Todd as county lieutenant.

The two leaders — Clark, in charge of the Virginia troops in Illinois, and Todd, chief civil official — were to cooperate in winning & retaining the friendship of the French residents of the region as well as the Indians. This, however, was no easy matter and Todd in particular was to confront many perplexities as he struggled to ease the friction between various factions in Illinois.

Todd had been with Clark at the capture of Vincennes in February of 1779, and it was there that he received news of his appointment as Illinois county lieutenant. After returning to Kentucky to make preparations for his new assignment, Todd arrived at Kaskaskia early in May. On the 12th of that month Clark summoned the villagers to the church where they were acquainted with the new government, introduced to Todd and invited to participate in the election of judges. A short time later similar elections for the district courts at Cahokia and Vincennes.

The elections went smoothly, but it was only a matter of days before Todd found himself trying to pacify Frenchmen whose cattle had been killed by soldiers. And soon after that Captain Richard McCarty, a former English trader who accompanied Clark to Vincennes and then was named commander of the troops at Cahokia, was protesting to Todd about the slaughter of his hogs by French neighbors.

McCarty claimed that his hogs were to be permitted to roam up to six miles from the village of Cahokia. The French contended that the hogs ruined their crops. McCarty noted that the fields were not fenced, and in his appeal to Todd he referred to the other party in the case as "a few despicable inhabitants who say they are authorized by you to parade themselves in the fields destroying my property when there is numbers of other hogs in the same place that are as fauacious as mine."

Disagreements between the troops and the French residents of the region could hardly be expected to have been avoided. Their language was different and so were their customs. And none of them were able to obtain adequate food and clothing. Added to these problems was that of inflation. Just before Todd took his new assignment, the cost of supplies in the region tripled during a two-month period.

Sometimes the sentences that he was required to execute must have been particularly offensive to Todd. Among them were those of two black slaves convicted of "voodooism" by the French judges. Denied by statute the privilege of granting pardons in such cases, Todd was required to comply with the death sentences of the slaves. One, named Moreau, was to be hung at Cahokia. The other, Manuel, was sentenced by the Court of Kaskaskia "to be chained to a post at the water-side and there to be burnt alive and his ashes scattered."

To make matters worse for Todd, the salary for his position was small and he was concerned that he might have to sell his Kentucky property to support himself. Within three months of his arrival at Kaskaskia, he had had enough and wrote to Governor Henry, asking that he might soon "get a discharge from an office which an unwholesome air, a distance from my connexions, a language not familiar to me, and an impossibility of procuring many of the conveniences of life, all tend to render uncomfortable."

In the spring of 1780 both Clark and Todd left Illinois. Clark was elected at that time as a delegate to the Virginia Legislature from Kentucky County. Clark spent the summer in defense of Kentucky and then went to Virginia to seek support for an expedition against Detroit. With these two leaders gone, problems in Illinois intensified, and before the end of the war troops were on the verge of mutiny and many of the Frenchmen were crossing the Mississippi to live under Spanish control.

CRAWFORDBE PROUD OF YOUR*RIGHT TO VOTE.*DO SO ON*AUGUST 3, 1976

FOUR YEARS AGO I MADE 3 CAMPAIGN PROMISES.

1. THAT I WOULD BE A WORKING SHERIFF.
2. THAT MY DOOR WOULD BE OPEN TO HEAR COMPLAINTS, OR ANSWER QUESTIONS.
3. THAT I, OR ONE OF MY DEPUTIES WOULD BE AVAILABLE ON REQUEST TO ATTEND MEETINGS.

I FEEL THAT I HAVE FULFILLED THOSE PROMISES.

THIS DEPARTMENT HAS ONLY 2 OFFICERS MORE AT THIS TIME THAN WHEN I TOOK OVER IN JANUARY, 1973. BOTH OF THESE OFFICERS ARE ON C.E.T.A., AND NO COST TO THE COUNTY. ONE IS A DISPATCH, AND THE OTHER IS A YOUTH OFFICER. THE CITY POLICE BENEFIT IN BOTH CASES AS MUCH AS THIS DEPARTMENT. THE YOUTH OFFICER HANDLES THE CITY'S YOUTH CASES, AND WE NOW DO ALL THE DISPATCHING FOR THE CITY POLICE.

AS SHERIFF OF THIS COUNTY, I FEEL THAT ONE OF THE MORE IMPORTANT THINGS I HAVE DONE, IS TO TAKE A GROUP OF GOOD OFFICERS AND TURN THEM INTO ONE OF THE BEST DEPARTMENTS IN THIS PART OF THE STATE.

THERE IS NO WAY THAT WE CAN PLEASE EVERYONE. IN JUST ABOUT EVERY COMPLAINT OR ACTION, SOMEONE IS UPSET, OR ANGRY WITH THE LAW.

I AM NOT A POLITICIAN, AND I HAVE NEVER TRIED TO PASS MYSELF OFF AS ONE. I AM A POLICE OFFICER, NOTHING MORE OR NOTHING LESS.

SHOULD YOU FEEL THAT I HAVE FULFILLED MY OBLIGATION AS SHERIFF OF THIS COUNTY, I WOULD APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE.

your week ahead BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: July 25 to July 31

ARIES
Mar. 21-Apr. 19

Remember that old story that goes in part: "For the want of a nail, a shoe was lost, and for the want of a shoe, a horse was lost." Anyway, think about it.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20

There's no question about it, we always seem to want the thing we can't have — that's going to be your hang up today.

GEMINI
May 21-June 20

There's very little you can do about a person younger than yourself. You'll have to be patient — they'll change your attitude. So choose your words carefully.

MOONCHILD
June 21-July 22

Don't worry about what you're going to do with a member of the other sex. Keep locked on your project or job. Otherwise, you are heading for real problems.

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22

You might add fuel to the fire of a bad situation — by making promises and commitments that you can't possibly fulfill.

VIRGO
Aug. 23-Sept. 22

As far as you're concerned, this day, might be the shortest of the month. In other words, most members of your sign will be on a tight schedule.

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

It seems as though the relationship between you and a member of the opposite sex will taper off some.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23-Nov. 21

Unless stellar patterns have it all upside down — you're going to be highly persuasive — with your routine associates.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22-Dec. 21

There's all sorts of information coming your way — most of it has little value. In fact, someone is trying to "cross your wires."

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22-Jan. 19

You should do well with persons in authority. Incidentally, tell your mate or similar alliance — to watch what they sign. Someone close might have legal entanglements.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20-Feb. 18

Just make it through the day — it seems as though most members of your sign will be crawling from one event to another.

PISCES
Feb. 19-Mar. 20

It's not a good time for social events. So, if you are thinking about some sort of gathering — postpone it. You won't be sorry.

Area Fishing Report

[By Skip Madsen]
With a few cooler days this past week the fishing has improved somewhat.
You should still do well on skunks and hoppers for trout. In my opinion the float fisherman stands a better chance this time of year as he can cover more ground and fish over more fish, however, the water is low and clear and requires a long, light, leader.

The pike fishing is picking up on Lake Margrethe with most pike fishermen getting some good catches, mostly on live minnows.
Good catches of bluegills have been reported all week coming out of Lake Margrethe.
K.P. Lake has been producing some nice bass and bluegills.
Lake Trout fishing on Lake Michigan continues to be good to excellent with the fish ranging from 75 to 90 feet of water with limit catches coming from Petoskey and Traverse City. I'm somehow managing to keep my smoke house full, and hope to be able to report a little more this week.

Good fishing

Mr. Madsen, Editor

Dear Sir:

An informative fact is that different points in our working world we have had little or no organization amongst the hourly employees. For those who have never worked on a production standard may not know how important this can be.

In later years we formed an employees assn., which was a step-up in our existence as a blue collar worker. Unfortunately our officers were expected after or during their eight hour day of production to also go to the bargaining table and not always with the assistance of a lawyer to bargain for wage increase, insurance job security, retirement, handle grievances, and try to compete with persons who are educated in this field, and spend their working hours not on production but with big business and all matters relating to it.

We have lost officers and lawyers of this assn., even times before elections, and had to scramble around to find replacements. Some officers were promoted to management some resigned.

I believed then, and do now that when you are working for a large profit-making business that you need Lasting and Equalized representation to protect your job, insure your rights, and help obtain security,
with pride at your retirement.

I believe, along with one hundred seventy persons and their families that we have the best representing us now.
When people vote on an issue or for office and majority rules, it is my understanding that this vote is honored. I have yet to know any majority vote on anything that has been denied for minority vote till now.

Our cause is just and legal,
and we have confidence, and solidarity, to the outcome of this dispute.

I myself am still being questioned on the fact that maybe we are asking for too much and possibly is the reason we are not at the bargaining table.

This is not an Economic strike, it is a Unfair Labor Practice strike. We are asking to be recognized, to negotiate, to be allowed our rights by management, is that too much to ask.

Now you can enjoy the convenience of annual meter reading and budget payments, too!

If you'd like the added convenience of having your Gas meter read only once a year, plus all the benefits of our 12-Month Budget Payment Plan, here's good news.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company is pleased to announce the availability of its Annual Meter Reading Program, as recently approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission, in conjunction with its 12-Month Budget Plan.
You may now take advantage of the additional convenience of having your Gas meter read only once a year, while continuing to enjoy the practical benefit of paying a level Gas bill all year long.*

The Annual Meter Reading Program means just what it says. You'll be billed each month for your established budget payment amount, but your Gas meter will be read only once each year. Modern billing procedures assure that only one annual reading is needed to determine your year-end account adjustment as well as compute your budget payment amount for the next year.

Because the cost of Natural Gas is rising,

along with other energy forms, the 12-Month Budget Payment Plan is a customer convenience that continues to make more sense each year. It allows you to pay for your full year's Gas cost over 12 balanced payments, eliminating the normal highs and lows that result from seasonal variations in use. In fact, midwinter payments can be reduced by nearly half from what they might otherwise be if calculated on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

To begin benefiting from the convenience of both programs, simply mark the enrollment card we're sending you and return it by mail.
We'll do the rest to enroll you in the Annual Meter Reading and 12-Month Budget Payment Plan programs.

*To qualify for Annual Meter Reading, you must also be a residential customer on the 12-Month Budget Payment Plan.
But it is possible to join the Budget Plan without taking advantage of the additional convenience of Annual Meter Reading.

Mrs. Judy Drewyer and children of Alabama and her mother, Waneeta Vollmer of Saginaw visited their cousins in Grayling, the Robert Cassidy family, the Herbert Nugent family, William Vollmer, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rose.

Mrs. Mary MacNeven was 99 years old on July 13. She is confined to a nursing home in Muskegon in ill health and her daughters, Mrs. Clare (Bernice) Smith and Mrs. Stuart (Ruth) Jones were with her on her birthday at which she received a letter from President Ford. The Clare Smiths spent five days in Muskegon with the Stuart Jones.

The Clare Smith's grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Smith and son, Scotty, of Howell, spent the past weekend in Grayling visiting his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Edmonds, daughter, Edna, and three grandchildren spent Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. Rosa Christenson. Also stopping on Sunday were a great-niece and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob German (Joyce Schreiber), of Grand Rapids. They had been camping at Burt Lake for 10 days.

Frederic Library Film Program

On Wednesday, July 28th, the Frederic Community Library will hold its last film program for the summer at the Frederic Town Hall. The time is 1:00 p.m.

The following films will be shown: "Princess in the Tower", "Lion and the Mouse" and "Munro".

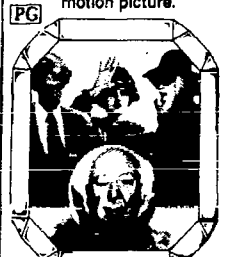

These film programs and the treats for the children were provided for by Glen's Market's Save and Share program and the friends of the library who turned their grocery tapes in to us.

Sixty-six attended our last program. Be sure to come and bring a friend to this last film program and join in the fun.

Taxation

Wakeley went on to say that "valuations are set by the townships. Each township supervisor is a qualified tax assessor, or if he is not, they have to hire a qualified tax assessor." They make the assessed value, then the state tax commission reviews it, assigns a factor to the property to come up with the state equalized value. Then the millage spread is applied to the state equalized value."

If we refer back to the example of the property assessed at $10,000 we might ask, where does that $62.00 finally end up? According to Mr. Wakeley, the $62.00 "comes into the county, and is deposited into a tax account. At the end of the month it is transferred to the general fund, which is what the county operates on."

A new option will be up for voter acceptance in November in the form of a fixed millage. In the past the county has operated with a tax allocation board. Composed of eight members representing the county, townships, the school district, the city, and one member at large to represent the public. That panel reviews budgets and decides how the 15 mill spread is going to be divided. According to Wakeley, those 15 mills "are not voted on by the people. It's done by the decision of the board how the 15 mills should be spread."

Every year it develops into a struggle between the county and the school system for operating millage purposes. This year a resolution was passed setting the millage spread for the next three years that would go to the voters in November. Mr. Wakeley stated that if approved, the resolution would not mean "any more millage than they are paying now." The millage would be broken into "6.5 mills for the county, 7.1 for the schools, 1.1 for the township, and .30 for COOR." This would actually help county voters to save money since according to Wakeley, passage of the resolution would mean "we wouldn't have to go in every year and spend between $1,000 and $1,500 paying for meetings to determine the tax spread."

Though it appears that taxes will always be with us, Crawford County residents can console themselves after receiving their tax statements, with the fact that their county treasurer is knowledgeable, and that his office is always open for questions. Many of us may still feel like we are dumping hard earned money into a bureaucratic funnel, but conversations with people like Joe Wakeley help to lessen the pain we feel when reaching for the checkbook.

CARD OF THANKS

My sincere thanks to Donald D. Burkley, M.D., Myrtle McPhail, R.N., Rev. Thomas A. Neis, St. Mary's Altar Society, Alfred J. Sorenson, Derek E.
